

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

RESEARCH ALERTS

Connaught Global Challenge Research Program

March 29, 2022 • Reply to Michael Hussey

The Connaught Global Challenge Award aims to heighten U of T's contribution to important issues facing society through the advancement of knowledge, and the transfer and application of solutions. $1 million annually will be awarded to support approximately 4 team initiatives of up to $250K each. Teams will represent new collaborations involving leading UofT researchers and students from multiple disciplines, along with innovators and thought leaders from other sectors.

Furthermore, the Connaught Global Research Impact Program (C-GRIP), provides additional funding for Global Challenge teams who wish to partner internationally to achieve the goals of the Connaught Global Challenge. The additional funding will provide graduate students and postdoctoral fellows with unique global opportunities by supporting global mobility and exchange over an additional three years.

The application deadline is May 16, 2022. Faculty members interested in applying are encouraged to review the program guidelines in advance of preparing a submission.

The project must be led by a University of Toronto campus-based faculty member with a team consisting of faculty representing a minimum of two SGS divisions, including junior and senior level faculty members. Questions regarding eligibility can be directed to the Connaught Secretariat

- 2022-23 Connaught Global Challenge Research Program Guidelines
- 2022-23 Connaught Global Challenge Research Program Application